Social media blurbs for voting phase – SYP elections 2026

Social media blurbs to be posted ahead of the voting period

Instagram

Are you ready to cast your vote?

Voting in the next Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections will be open from Monday, 2 November, to Sunday, 15 November. If you're aged 12–25 and live in Scotland, you're eligible to vote.

By taking part in this year's elections, you're helping to make sure your voice is represented in spaces where decisions about your present and future are made, both locally and nationally.

Find out more about the SYP elections here: www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

TikTok

Don't miss your chance to vote!

Voting in the next Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections will take place from Monday, 2 November, to Sunday, 15 November, so make sure you save the dates.

If you're aged 12–25 and live in Scotland, you're eligible to vote and decide who will represent you as a Member of the Scottish Youth Parliament (MSYP).

Find out more about the SYP elections here: www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

LinkedIn

Voting in the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections will be open from Monday, 2 November, to Sunday, 15 November. Any young person aged 12–25 who lives in Scotland can cast their vote.

If you live, work with or know any eligible young people, encourage them to engage with their local candidates and take part in the elections.

Find out more about the SYP elections here: www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

Facebook

From Monday, 2 November, to Sunday, 15 November, young people aged 12–25 who live in Scotland will be able to cast their vote in the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections.

If you live, work with or know any eligible young people, encourage them to engage with their local candidates and take part in the elections.

Find out more about the SYP elections here: www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

Social media blurbs to be posted during the voting period (2–15 November)

Instagram

It's your right to have your views taken seriously.

Voting in the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections is now open. If you're aged 12–25 and live in Scotland, you can vote to elect the next Member of the Scottish Youth Parliament in your local area.

Voting closes on Sunday, 15 November. Results will be announced the following week.

Find out who your local candidates are and how to vote at www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

TikTok

Don't let others decide for you.

If you're aged 12–25 and live in Scotland, you can vote in the current Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections. Voting is open until Sunday, 15 November, so make sure you cast your vote before then!

Find out who your local candidates are and how to vote at www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

LinkedIn

Voting in the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections is open until Sunday, 15 November. This is an opportunity for young people to elect their preferred candidate to represent their views in decision-making spaces over the next two years.

If you know a young person aged 12–25 who lives in Scotland, encourage them to cast their vote before Sunday.

Find out more about local candidates and how to vote at www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.

Facebook

It's voting time!

Voting in the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) elections will remain open until Sunday, 15 November. Results will be announced the following week.

If you know or work with a young person aged 12–25 who lives in Scotland, this is their chance to have their say. Encourage them to support their local candidates by casting their vote.

Find out more about local candidates and how to vote at www.syp.org.uk/elections-2026.